XXXIXth Congress-1st Session. SENATE.

WACHINGTON, July 16.

Un motion of Mr. Clark, it was ordered that the Senate hold an evening session to-morrow, for the consideration of bills from common claims.

Mr. Summer, from the select committee on Carriago and Welghts and Measures, reported favormbly a number of bills, all without amendment.

Senate bill authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Misslesspip river, at quin vy, III., with House amendment suthorizing the construction of bridges at Prairie du Chien, Keokuk, Winom and Itabique, was announced from the House, which was referred.

The bill for the speedy completion of Location for Picnics -- Fair Grounds

House, which was referred.

The bill for the speedy completion of the Northern Pacific railroad was taken in.

Mr. Howard took the foor in reply to Mr. Sherman's argument of Soturday last against the bill.

Mr. Sherman's principal objection was, that the Northern Pacific railroad was to be a rival line to the U mon Facific railroad was to be controlling officers, Instead of for the rewan men so of the controlling officers, Instead of for the provad ree may need to the controlling of the controlling of the controlling of the controlling of the controlling o

He are the believed in the believe in pathic and private reputation; but if Congress persisted in that kind of legislation, if burdens were to be imposed for the objects proposed ly this bill, u party would seek for othee on a platforou of regulation. Evon naw he believed there were in the North men with would like to see that portion of the debt for the support of negroes wiped out. A vote was then taken on the question, "shall the bill be passed, the President's objections notwithstanding?" It resulted as fellows: Yess—33; nays—12; absent—3.

The Chair in announcing the vote ed as fellows: Yeas—oc; Bays—L; aosent—3.

The Chair, in annonneing the vote, said tout the bill, baving received a twothirds vote in both Houses, he (Mr. Foster) proclutined it a law, not withstanding the objections of the President,
The Senate, at 3:30 p. M., adjourned,
the question pending being the Pacific
